ONESEARCH IS COMING...

Foothill Library is getting ready to launch a new catalog. OneSearch replaces the 23-year old Sirsi library system, the EBSCO Discovery system and our e-Journal Portal. OneSearch will provide an enhanced user experience - including one simple search of all of the Library's collections.

What this means for you:
- The new system will come online January 1, 2020.
- All library holdings, including all course reserves, can be searched in one system.
- Individual databases are all available and can still be searched individually via the Articles & Databases link.
- Links to library materials may need to be updated. Contact your library liaison for assistance.
- The Information Library Tutorials will not be immediately available via Canvas.
Contact thomasmary@fhda.edu for further questions.

To learn more about the new library search, contact your library liaison to schedule an individual appointment or library instruction session, contact the Reference Desk at x7608, or email szponarpaul@fhda.edu.

New Features!
Quickly generate citations for articles, books, and more.
Create an eShelf of your favorite items and organize using labels.
Discover more by virtually browsing our shelves by call number, title, or subject without ever having to leave your home.
Use your Foothill ID and password to renew books, view search history and favorites, place holds and requests, and more.
Keep an eye out on foothill.edu/library for updates.
