Corrections

Whoops! A cheeky monkey got into our last newsletter and stole a few words and links.

We've swung back into action and corrected the mix-ups. Thanks for your patience!

Foothill Opportunities

Observe the Moon Night

Sept 14
7:30 PM - 10:30 PM

The Peninsula Astronomical Society, the Foothill College Astronomy Department and the Emerging Technology Institute at Foothill College will join in with NASA's Observe the Moon Night global event on Sept 14. We will have a variety of telescopes next to the Foothill College Observatory, in parking lot 4. Parking is free!

Foothill STEM Day

Sept 17
2 PM - 3:30 PM
Foothill PSEC Quad

SLI and the STEM Division are hosting STEM Day on the same day as New Student Welcome Day. If you are considering studying a STEM discipline and taking classes in science, technology, engineering, and math, come to this event to meet faculty, leaders of student clubs, and current STEM students to learn more about being a STEM student at Foothill! Snacks and raffle prizes, including an iPad, gift cards, and other fun swag. The first 30 students who check in will receive a free 2024 STEM t shirt!
